Verse 1:

C#m7                      F#                      B                      /Bb                      G#m
God who loves Your enemies, You cannot love them more.
C#m7                      F#                      B                      /Bb                      G#m
God who loves the brokenhearted, God who loves the poor.

Pre-chorus:

E                                      G#m
When hunger strikes, despair is close
E                                      B
and plague destroys the land
C#7
Our Father kneels down to his kids
F#7sus                      F#7
to take them by the hand

B                                      E                                      B
Father to the fatherless, defense against the fall.
C#m7                      B/D#                                      1` E                                      F#
Protector of the helpless mom, You hear the widow's call.
B                                      E                                      B
Safe guard for defenseless babes, A shield for those exposed
C#m7                      B/D#                                      E                      F#                      B
You piece together brokenness, dress the naked in white clothes.
C#m7                      B/D#                                      E                      F#                      C#m7....B (B)
You died for all your enemies, made us friends when you arose.

Verse 2:

C#m7                                      F#                                      B                      /Bb                      G#m
Your ear bends to the homeless, Your arms hold up the weak
You use Your Church to show your love, We are your hands and feet.

Bridge:

A                                      E                                      B
Walking in God's reign, He makes us clean
Calls us by our name, we are redeemed
